

Construction

The attorneys of Williams Mullen's Construction Practice Group have been providing legal counseling and representation to the construction industry since the 1970s. Our clients include project owners, developers, architects/engineers, construction managers, contractors, suppliers, and sureties for public and private projects both inside and outside the United States, as well as for public private partnerships (P3). We keep pace with changes in federal and state regulation of the construction industry, and with developments in the construction industry as project design and delivery systems evolve. We bring to our clients a formidable collection of firsthand knowledge of construction law, the construction industry and the construction process built over the past four decades.

Publications such as Best Lawyers in America, Chambers USA, Legal Elite, Super Lawyers, and The International Who's Who of Construction Lawyers have recognized members of the Williams Mullen Construction Practice Group among the best when it comes to construction and surety matters.

Our attorneys have written chapters for various publications, such as the ABA Forum book, Federal Government Construction Contracts, and the Virginia Construction Law Deskbook, and had published in Engineering News Record, Construction Claims Advisor, and the Construction Law and Public Contracts Virginia State Bar Newsletter, in addition to contributing to numerous papers, making presentations and leading seminars at the invitation of construction industry groups and legal organizations.

The clients of the Construction Practice Group have yet another advantage with Williams Mullen that a limited practice law firm cannot provide. As a client, your legal issues are not always restricted to one area of law practice, and for your benefit, the law practice areas of Williams Mullen are not limited. When you engage Williams Mullen, you immediately have access, if and when needed, to over 30 legal practice areas and approximately 230 attorneys from our offices in Virginia, the District of Columbia, and North Carolina.

Our Construction Project Portfolio Is Vast and Varied
