As chair of Williams Mullen's Construction Practice, Bob Cox provides clients with more than 35 years of experience in construction and surety law issues. Bob prepares, negotiates and evaluates construction contracts, and uses mediation, arbitration and court to resolve construction project disputes.

If you are a business owner, developer, contractor, subcontractor, supplier or surety requiring assistance on international, federal, state and local government projects, Bob Cox can provide the focus and experience you need. He also works on private projects throughout the United States.

A sought-after speaker and author, Bob frequently lectures on construction and surety law issues and has authored numerous articles on these topics.

He has served on the board of governors and a past chair of the Virginia State Bar's Construction Law and Public Contracts Section. Bob is a certified arbitrator for the American Arbitration Association.
