

The Role Attorneys General Play in Our Industry

10.01.2009

10. 2009

Jerry Kilgore's article about the role state attorneys general play in the hospitality industry appeared in the October 2009 edition of Developments. Developments is the American Resort Development Association's monthly publication.

This article is reprinted below with the permission of the American Resort Development Association and the editor of Developments.

Click on the file below to read the article...

Related People

Related Services

- Hospitality