

38th Annual Advanced State & Local Tax Institute

08.05.2015

Location:

Georgetown University Law Center, Washington, DC

A program designed to incorporate best practices in adult learning. The 2015 Institute will reference the accordion model for interactive adult education. You will begin the day with an informative large-group discussion then meet in smaller sections to explore related topics in greater depth. You will reconvene with expert panelists who will analyze the small groups' ideas and provide practical suggestions for you to implement when you return to your office. This year's Institute will change the way you think about state and local tax law—and CLE!
