Williams Mullen litigation attorney Cameron Rountree recently wrote an article titled "With Minimal Legal Hurdles, the 'Big E' may be a Big Opportunity for Hampton Roads Ship Repairers and Government Contractors" that was published in the August edition of the Virginia Ship Repair Association newsletter. The article discusses the possibility of the USS Enterprise, the world's first nuclear-powered aircraft carrier built in Newport News from 1957-1961, being dismantled and disposed in Hampton Roads. This would represent a potential boon for the Hampton Roads maritime industry. It will be the first nuclear-powered carrier ever de-fueled, dismantled and disposed. Read the full article here.
