

D.C. Office to Host D.C. Bar Program on 2017 Budget

04.11.2016

On Wednesday, April 13, Williams Mullen's D.C. office will host a program sponsored by the District of Columbia Affairs Section of the D.C. Bar on titled "The Fiscal Year 2017 Budget and Local Budget Autonomy: Brave New World." Speakers at the program will discuss how budget autonomy, which the District was granted in March, will change the budget for FY 2017 and beyond.

The program will run from 12:00-1:30 p.m. The program is free to attend, but registration is required. The speakers include Jennifer Budoff, Council's Budget Office; Eric Cannady, Office of Budget and Planning for Chief Financial Officer; David Clark, Office of Budget and Planning for Chief Financial Officer; and Justin Constantino, Mayor's Budget Office.
