

Williams Mullen to Receive the Urban League of Hampton Roads' A. Phillip Randolph Award

05.18.2017

On June 1, the Urban League of Hampton Roads will present Williams Mullen with the A. Phillip Randolph award for diversity in a local business. The award is part of the Urban League's annual Whitney M. Young awards. The awards raise a significant portion of the annual revenue needs of the ULHR, which helps African-Americans and people of all races achieve independence and improve the quality of their lives through education and job training.

It's a privilege and honor to be named for this award," Williams Mullen attorney Mike Kelly said in an Inside Business story about the awards. To read the story, click here.
