

Webinar: Solar Project Development - Top 5 Things to Support Land Use Approvals

09.21.2017

Solar developers are confronting greater resistance in securing project approvals at planning commissions and local governing boards. Join Williams Mullen for our inaugural solar webinar series on September 21, where we will discuss recent trends and emerging land use and zoning issues in developing utility-scale solar projects in the Mid-Atlantic and Southeastern U.S. Webinar topics to include:

- Solar project ordinances/policies
- Public opposition to solar projects
- Decommissioning plans and bonds
- Tax structure and alternative revenue arrangements

In addition, we will share some helpful tips and the top five things to consider when seeking land use approval for your next solar project. Please join Williams Mullen solar team members Bob Riley, Grady Palmer and Brad Nowak for an engaging and timely conversation on solar land use issues.
