

Evan Tucker Named to "Top 40 Under 40" Black Lawyers in Virginia

05.11.2021

Evan X. Tucker, an associate in the firm's Litigation Section, was named among the "Top 40 Under 40" Black Lawyers in Virginia by The National Black Lawyers. This honor is given to a select group of lawyers based on their skills and qualifications in the field.

Evan focuses his practice on general civil litigation matters. Before joining Williams Mullen, he was the law clerk to The Honorable James J. Reynolds, Chief Judge of the Twenty-Second Circuit of Virginia, and The Honorable Joseph W. Milam Jr.

The National Black Lawyers is a professional, honorary organization composed of lawyers who represent individuals and businesses in the American legal system. Membership in the NBL's Top 40 Under 40 is by invitation only and is limited to the top 40 black attorneys under the age of 40 in each state who have demonstrated excellence and have achieved outstanding results in their careers. The selection process for this elite honor is based on a multi-phase process which includes peer nominations combined with third party research.
